“ I was in Food Service at Cabrini for 2 years and fast became friends with Marcia. I would see her often, especially when working on her floor. She was so smart and I enjoyed political bantering with her as we agreed on most everything. We would get angry together at the nasty political culture at the time but would also discuss common tv shows we enjoyed including Law & Order. She also spoke about her family and granddaughters fondly. I only found out today about her passing. I will miss her.....

“ My dear Marcia Klein. May she rest in peace. I was one of the aides who used to work on the weekends with Marcia. She always had positive words of wisdom. I enjoyed every minute of our conversation.

“ For the past 3 years, Marsha was my mom’s neighbor at Cabrini. Marsha - so eloquent with her hair always coifed like she was ready to go out on the town. Lovely cardigans, pretty jewelry, and impeccable table manners!

Caring for a loved one who is elderly and not well is challenging. On almost a daily basis, Marsha was quick to tell me I was a wonderful person....and her words and her smile made me feel that somehow things were going to be ok.

I am sad about the last year, about the pandemic, because it caused so much lost time with my mom and of course for all of the beautiful residents on the Mezzanine. My heart breaks because it is time we will never get back.

My solace is to forever cherish my memories of Marsha, and recall with love her amazing spirit and grace. May she rest in peace.

My deepest sympathies. May God continue to bless all of us.

“ Dear Ellen,

I remember the first time I met Marcia, she was trying so hard to converse with me. As time went on she began to get better. Next thing I know she’s talking and before I knew it

She was walking. She became my miracle friend. She was very kind to my Dad (John Coffey). She was the only person I know to enter Cabrini and get better. If she didn’t like it there she handled it great.

I remembered she loved when you came took her to lunch or shopping at L&T. She was quite the dresser.:). I will always have fond memories of her.

May she Rest In Peace..
My deepest sympathy to her entire family.
