“ Tom and I grew up in the same neighborhood in Manhattan, West Harlem, and attended the same grammar school together, Annunciation Catholic. After graduation, we remained in touch. Due to Tom's talent as a matchmaker, our paths crossed again when he arranged a blind date for me with a girl who later became my wife, Kathleen Barron. Kathy also happened to be the sister of the girl Tom was dating, Patricia Barron. Last year, in 2019, Pat and Tom, and Kathy and I all celebrated our 56th wedding anniversaries. Tom, I will forever be in your debt.

The qualities which come to mind when I think of Tom are generosity, sense of humor and especially kindness. These qualities were especially evident whenever he met old acquaintances and I sure that this is one of the reasons he made friends so easily.

Whenever, in the future, I think of Tom , I will think of a good and decent man who will be remembered fondly by all who knew him.

Rest in peace Tom.

“ Living next door to Tom and his wife, Pat, for 10 years, i can say that I was the lucky one!

Tom was always so interested in whatever was happening at Irvington Gardens and had a high standard of excellence. Later I would learn that he also held a similar position taking care of the apartment building he lived in before he moved here. He was so appreciative for small things that I would do that he always bought a gift when he and Pat came back from a trip. I had to finally tell him I didn't need for him to buy me one more thing. I made the mistake one day to say I liked the rye bread he bought at a bakery in New Jersey. From that point, I would always see rye bread at my door whenever they went to the bakery. Yes,he absolutely wouldn't obey my command. My last word is, "Tom, you were the best neighbor and friend and I will miss you.".
